

the SpeakerDog
Gamesmachine
by the boy fitz hammond

Speakerdog stands for peace, love & good times.
TBFH stands for snakes &
ladders!

TBFH.com

Speakerdog.com
myspace.com/speakerdog

Speakerdog 16
Designed by The Boy Fitz Hammond
"The Speakerdog
Games Machine!"

Your cut-out and keep Speakerdog!

Playing Counters and Dice for Snakes & Ladders game. Cut out carefully.

Rules: O's & X's
 Player 1 & Player 2 take turns writing their symbols in the squares. When a player has 3 of their symbols in a line either vertically, horizontally or diagonally, that player wins. If all the squares are filled without either player winning, the game is a draw.

Rules: Snakes & Ladders
 Players roll the die and move their playing counter along the squares in accordance with the number rolled. If a player lands on a square containing the foot of a ladder, they move up the ladder. If a player lands on a square containing a snake's head, they move down the snake. The winner is the first player to reach the "Win" square.

How to put together your cut-out and keep Speakerdog!

Cut out all the shapes.

Score and fold as required,

Glue tabs.

Attach speech bubble.

Play.